The Best of That's Life: Highlights from 2010-2011

not-so-droning life at BCHS

September 8: Kyle Miller '11 says, "Yeah, my grandpa goes to Rotary Club." After receiving a confused glance from Chris Minter '11, he clarifies, "Not the dead one Chris, I have two..."

September 16: During lunch, Jenae Hershberger '11 says, "No offense to old people but they're basically all dead anyway."

October 1: During volleyball warmups, Scott Weaver '11 asks Ben Bontreger '11, "Is Marla our sombrero?"

November 29: During warmups and backrubs in Concert Choir, Nathan Swartzendruber instructs students to "find your crack; experience your crack."

December 7: In 1st period AP English, Michael Yeakey asks, "Who's never done show-and-tell?" Taylor Ann Krahn '11 raises her hand. Michael says, "Well that's because you were chained to a radiator and forced to read the Encyclopedia Britannica when you were 5 years old."

March 14: Michael Yeakey tells his junior English class, "I don't think any of you would let your parents pick a spouse for you." Bryce Reinheimer '12 turns and looks at Pooja Patel '12...Pooja responds "SHUT UP!"

March 25: While carrying plastic tubing down the hallway, Norm Cender tells Matt Weaver '11, "I'm going to make my own meth lab."

April 25: In 1st period English Michael Yeakey asks students to share what they ate for Easter dinner. When the vast majority responded that they had eaten ham, Michael asks, "Are you trying to shove it in the Jews' face?"

May 5: During a fire drill, Marcelo Warkentin claimed that he had to "save the drugs" when asked about why he went back inside during a fire drill.

Final Words From the Reflector Staff

By the Senior Staff

1. If you want to make Michael angry, don't go to college.
2. You only need a 3.5 GPA to get a decent scholarship.
3. Don't talk too much and teachers will let you do what you want for the most part (or in other words don't act like this years' juniors).
4. Get on the Reflector Staff. You can do whatever you want during study hall and you don't have to do near as much work as WIT.
5. Respect the upperclassmen. Just move when they ask you to.
6. Take English Language 12 for AP...just do it.
7. Physics is way easier than Chem. II.
8. Take the ACT even though Jim says it isn't worth it, especially if you are good in sciency things.
9. Fill out the Common App the summer before your senior year if you want to get out of the Mennonite world.
10. Remember that the Academic Honors diploma only matters for public Indiana colleges.
11. Take Ceramics, not Photography.
12. Don't go to Chicago for Senior trip. Go somewhere far away and make sure to schedule lots of free time.
13. Do your Senior Faith Statement in chapel.

14. If you don't have time to write a rough draft for Michael's class, print off an old essay and have someone pretend to proofread it for you (Wikipedia articles work well too).
15. "Forget" to go to mentoring. Every. Time.
16. Don't become cliquey. Hang out with different people. Who knows, you might like some of them.
17. Take classes and participate in activities you personally have an interest in rather than what your friends are doing. You will be a much happier person.
18. No matter what you do for your senior prank, you'll end up offending SOMEONE. Don't sweat it.
19. Respect seniority.
20. Don't cheat in Amy's class and don't get caught in Marcelo's.
21. Trust Eileen, she knows what she's talking about.
22. For Lisa's tests, study by memorizing the things she counts half off for.
23. Add something random to the ends of papers and projects for Dale that make him think and say "Hmmm..." You'll get bonus points.
24. In weight lifting, if you waste time by talking to KP you won't get counted down.
25. Learn how to spell in elementary school so you don't end up like Ben Miller or Mattie Lehman.
26. Write as much as you possibly can about a topic in Amy's class. You will always manage to get some partial credit.
27. Always, Have a Good Day

Senior Predictions
