Middle School

Interterm II Offerings

Jan. 5 & 6

Stats in Sports with Daniel Mast (12 students)

In this interterm, students will learn how to keep “book” in certain sports, what stats mean and how they are calculated. They will have a chance to practice taking stats, and gain a deeper understanding of how numbers impact athletics and performance. (half day)

Mirrors & Windows with Jared Leaman and Matt Miller (24 students)

Reading and writing give us ways to explore and express ourselves and our interests. At the same time, we can explore and relate to stories of diverse and inspiring people. In this Interterm, we will explore some of our favorite things - like the winter pastimes of hot chocolate, snow forts or basketball. We will visit bookstores like The Brain Lair in South Bend and Fables here in Goshen. We will fill little libraries around town with books that inspire us and get to take home a few books of our own! (full day)

I Can Help with Linda Hochstetler (12 students)

In this interterm you will learn basic first aid! You will be prepared to help others! We will learn to take care of common issues that require first aid - such as nose bleeds, hypothermia, hyperthermia, minor cuts, bites, dizziness, and ankle/wrist sprains. You will also learn how and why a backboard is used. Additionally, you will be able to become CERTIFIED in CPR! This would be a good interterm for those of you who have interest in camping, hiking, or childcare. These skills are important for all of us to master! (half day)

Sports Card Collecting 101 with Hank Willems (12 students)

The sports card and memorabilia market value is estimated to be $5.4 billion dollars annually! Combining the popularity of sports with the prospect of making money has grown the card collecting industry from one that was primarily popular with children into one that is for serious investors around the world. We will explore the history of card collecting, how to begin and grow a collection, decide what to invest in and learn how to buy and sell cards online. A trip to a local sports card store will be one of the many highlights of the day! Get your dad (or mom) to dig up their old card collection and let's have some fun! (full day)

Food & Fitness with Cheryl Mast and Katelyn Hochstetler (24 students)

If you like learning fun exercise routines and exploring foods to fuel your body then this interterm is for you! In this interterm we will be exploring less common ways to exercise and some different foods that are nutrient dense with long lasting energy but also taste good. (full day)

80s Pop Culture with Aaron Johnson (12 students)

The 1980s was a decade that redefined what it meant to be a kid. For the first time, companies started to make entertainment specifically for kids, and it changed everything about pop culture forever, in ways that still impact you all today, even if you aren't aware of it. We will examine the toys, music, movies, cartoons, and video games that defined the decade and changed what childhood would look like forever. (half day)

Paint-by-Number with John Mast (12 students)

If you have ever wanted to paint a beautiful work of art but it just never quite worked out, this interterm is for you! You can be an artist.....with a bit of assistance. Students will submit a photo of their choosing and a personal paint-by-number project will be created. A photograph is good, but a painting? That's ARTISTIC! (half day)
